3. The contribution as regards pension, excluding leave allowances which will continue to be paid by the Local Government, will up to 10th June 1882 be Rs. 12½* per cent on the monthly salary drawn by the officers subject to a maximum of Rs. 136 per month, and subsequent to 10th June 1882 it will be $\frac{1}{11}$th of the salary with a maximum of Rs. 100 per month.

*This is according to Resolution No. 1622, dated 10th June 1882, but the contribution of 12 per cent required by the Pension Code to secure a pension on 88 per cent of the salary would require to be raised to 13$\frac{7}{8}$ percent on the salary to secure the pension on the full amount of the salary.

4. As the officers concerned entered the Mysore service unconditionally and on their own interests sharing in the prospects and promotions afforded by that service, His Highness' Government does not consider itself called upon to reimburse them for the contribution which they undertake to pay in order to secure their claims to past service under the British Government; but having regard to the fact that such contribution relieves the Mysore State of the proportion of the pension payable by it for the years on account of which the contribution is made, His Highness' Government will not object to make good in such cases one-half of the amount of the contribution, which the Comptroller is authorized to pay from the revenues of the State levying from the officers concerned only the remaining half.

5. Where the eligible service of the officers under the British Government is short and they have yet to serve long in Mysore to entitle them to a pension, it may be felt as a hardship by the officers, and it will be equally inconvenient to the Government to continue the contribution over such long periods. As some compensation in these cases to the officers desiring to relinquish the benefit of the British Service, the Mysore Government will undertake to allow one-half of any such eligible British Service to count as service rendered in the Mysore State up to a limit of 3 years.

6. These orders do not apply to Uncovenanted British officers entering the Mysore Service after the Rendition, as their employment, if they are to retain their lien on the British Government for pension, can only be secured under special engagements with that Government, but they will be given effect to as regards all Uncovenanted officers who entered the Mysore Service before the Rendition, whether they are Natives or European British subjects, excepting only European British officers lent to Mysore under the orders of the Government of India and whose retention up to 30th September 1882 has been specially authorized.

The 30th August 1882.

No. 99.—Sitaramaiya, Acting Amildar of the Mysore Taluk, is granted six days' privilege leave of absence from such date as he availed himself of the same.
